Whether you're two weeks or five, we're here for you! Surely you will feel the familiar feeling of the end of the mandate. You are tired, your students are all hyper on the delirium induced by Christmas crafts and you still have the last pieces of evaluation to mark so you can finish your reports! It can be hard to stay on track and motivated when you and your colleagues are all dreaming of sleep, hot cups of coffee, and terrible daytime television (or is it just me?). Well, never fear! We decided to help you with that final push, providing some entertainment in the form of inspirational and humorous images, of course! It's that time of year when you might question your life choices... Definitely a nice quiet job at the desk is not the worst thing in the world... To the right? And it's entirely possible that you're about to finish your tether... You're not sure how much more time you can take it. We know you're exhausted... You put everything into teaching this term, and even if the end is so close, it seems so far away! But then you remember why you're here! You remember that you have a noble vocation: after all you are a teacher! Take the time to reflect on how lucky you are. You know, you're a teacher. It's a big deal. And yes, you have a lot of signs to do... But you also have the opportunity to see how far your students have come! Think about everything you've accomplished in the last year! Your class works like a well-oiled machine because you spent So. Long. Teaching. Routines.It's the time of year when you can also relax with some fun activities! There is nothing like the joy that Christmas crafts bring to the classroom! Not to mention, secret Santa Claus, Christmas shows, end-of-term concerts... the list goes on! Make the most of your time with your students. If you are about to finish the school year, you will say goodbye to your students: you will definitely miss you! I appreciate the last lessons you have with them. So remember, stay strong! Yes, it's a hectic time of year, but there are so many positives to find! You will be able to bask in the glory of a well-made term, soon enough. We hope we've helped make these last few weeks a little more manageable! The end of a long and happy summer for the whole population of schoolchildren and their teachers must mean only one thing, go back to school! Although children may cry for the end of carefree summer days, it is much more difficult for teachers. Imagine dealing with a horde of wild and unruly children for 30 years, listening to their parents' complaints, taking care of all the paperwork and preparing for classes for most of the year for a salary that's not that surprising. We bet that even the best teachers can sometimes lose their minds. Now it doesn't have to be all dark and sad, as it's time to reconnect and share funny stories with colleagues and classmates, discuss all the fun new school events, and maybe make some teacher memes. A new beginning optimism for the new semester. To get the mood right, we at Bored Panda collected our favorite school memes and memes for teachers; they are guaranteed to give you a chuckle, students in particular, but the teachers perhaps a little painfully. Scroll down to the fun memes on the school for you! yourself!
